Celebrating 2020

Our staff, children and women across our hubs in India rang in the new year celebrations with your help through the #1DayForA100smiles campaign. Thank you for contributing to bring happiness in the faces of our beneficiaries!

Manoj, our change agent in Hallelegudadhahalli, Bangalore loves attending our after-school programme and the youth club. Previously, he was a part of our football programme where he had regular practices, watched live matches with his friends at stadiums and participated in tournaments with other teams. Through football, Manoj developed his passion for the game and also learnt to live a disciplined life.

Now, Manoj enjoys being a part of the youth club where he learns about the importance of education, child rights and gets help to develop his creativity! The youth club focuses on the social and emotional development of children and also helps create awareness on anti-human trafficking.

Many children like Manoj receive holistic development at Oasis India, which enables them to not only be their best self but also be socially conscious individuals in their communities.

Home is our safe space. What if you do not feel safe in your own home? This was the reality for Kanaga* in Bangalore.

Our staff have been following up with children and women in the communities that we have conducted relief work with in the past year. One such family is Kanaga’s. She lived with her father and sister. During the pandemic last year, the children were staying at a hostel but were sent back to stay at home and the father struggled to keep the family afloat. To help him financially, the sisters also went to work at a factory with their father.

At work, Kanaga’s father was approached by a co-worker with a chance to sell their daughter to a couple for 15 Lakhs, promising a good life for himself and his younger daughter. Kanaga and her sister alerted one of our staff about this. Knowing the seriousness of the issue, we have kept in touch with her father for over 6 months, advising and guiding him to protect Kanaga as this can potentially lead to trafficking. In almost all the cases, traffickers are known individuals who promise a better life to the victims.
We began educating the girls and their father on trafficking and to spot the signs of trafficking. During conversations on good touch and bad touch, Kanaga opened up about her father’s friend who sexually abusing them. For a child to endure this much at a young age is heart breaking. We have worked to help the sisters find a hostel where they can be safe and secure, receiving all the health attention required.

Engaging Kanaga in conversations on trafficking, good touch and bad touch has saved her life. She is now slowly beginning to return to enjoy the good things in life!

Empowering women and creating a sustainable lifestyle for them and their families has been our goal. In Chennai, we work with former beneficiaries to create products for sale! Working at this production, has given them something to fall back on, financially.

Baby Jasmine has been a part of Oasis’ various programmes for the past 7 years. She finished her tailoring course and is now helping with the production of cushion cases and candles. After Baby’s mother lost her job during the lockdown, she struggled to take care of the expenses at home. She joined the production unit at Kalayanapuram hub through which she financially supports her mother. Although the pressure at home takes a toll on Baby's physical and mental health, she enjoys coming to our centre and spending time doing what she loves.

Jeevitha works with Baby in the production unit! With two children at home, she works to earn extra cash to be financially independent. This is their first bold step out into attaining their own independence.

If you would like to buy their products, send us an email!

Our community women and children in Bangalore and Chennai enjoyed celebrating Pongal (Sankranti) with folk dances, rangoli design competitions and by making Pongal in clay pots!
Deena*, 20 years old, resides at our group home in Mumbai. When boys this age enjoy a carefree life, Deena carries the responsibility of taking care of himself and figuring out an uncertain future all by himself.

As a child, Deena lived with his mother in the red-light area. Fearing the unclean and unsafe environment, his mother joined him at a shelter home for children. This was the first time Deena was left to cope with sudden changes in life. After a few years, tragedy struck when his mother suddenly passed away. Deena's world was shattered.

In 10th grade, Deena moved into the Oasis boys group home and has received all the help he needs to lay the foundation for success in the future. He has learnt house management and during the lockdown, he completed the employment-readiness programme, Blue Edge at Oasis and has received the best performing student award too! Now, we have helped Deena get admission in a college for his further education. He wishes to complete his studies, start working and earn money to support himself and live an independent life.

Bearing a terrible loss at such a young age, we believe in giving Deena an environment to feel supported, and serve as a catalyst for his growth.
